10:00 AM - 3:00 PM
Monroeville Convention Center

Contact us: info@percjobfair.org

www.percjobfair.org

Dear Recruiters, Candidates, and Guests,

On behalf of the Pittsburgh Education Recruitment Consortium executive board, it's my pleasure to welcome you to the annual PERC Job Fair! We hope your involvement in this year's fair will prove to be productive and meaningful.

Questions? We are here to help! We recommend that you start by reading the Tips for the Day handout found in your check-in packet. You can also approach any of our board members or volunteers (identified by either a PERC shirt or green button) to direct you to someone who can help. Or, feel free to come see me at the volunteer check-in station!

Should anything happen and you need medical attention, please go to the Monroeville Convention Center Office located to the left of Employer Check-In.

PERC Stats! What to expect at the fair:

- Organizations: Over 200 unique school districts or agencies will be in attendance.
- Recruiters: 500+ recruiters will be on-site speaking with job seekers.
- Candidates: Over 500 qualified candidates from 25 colleges and universities will attend.
- Interviews: About 475 interviews will be conducted on-site.
- Volunteers: 40+ volunteers from our consortia member institutions will work together to make sure it all happens!

Awards and Drawings:

- Educator Excellence Award: Every year, PERC recognizes up to 10 future and current educators with a one-time $500 cash prize. Eligibility criteria and the application details are listed on the postcard in your candidate bag and www.percjobfair.org. The application and supporting documentation must be received by PERC no later than 5pm on Monday, May 5, 2025.
- Employers: We invite you to place your business card in the box at the Employer Check-in booth by 11 a.m. for both the lunchtime and 3 p.m. drawings.

Finally, we value your feedback! Post-fair evaluations are available for both candidates and recruiters, and we rely on this feedback to drive decision-making for future fairs. Surveys can be taken on the day of the fair via QR code and will also be emailed after the event.

A very sincere thanks to the PERC Executive Committee Members for their dedication in planning our 2025 Education Job Fair, our volunteers for their assistance, and our Event Coordinator Kristen Ritter for her excellent work in organizing this event.

Best wishes for a successful day!

Sincerely,

Elisabeth Estes, President

Top 10 Tips for Candidates Attending the Fair

The PERC Education Job Fair is an effective way to meet employers, to build your network of contacts, to expand job prospects, to have conversations about your qualifications, and to—potentially—get a job! Here is a list of tips to help you make the most of the fair.

- 1. CREATE A FREE HANDSHAKE ACCOUNT IF YOU DON'T HAVE ONE - Here's how to set up your Handshake account. Please note: Your college/university does not need to be a member of Handshake for you to sign up for a Handshake account. All students, regardless of where they attend, can sign up and use Handshake for free.
- 2. BUILD A COMPLETE PROFILE IN HANDSHAKE - Make sure to include your resume and class year, as well as other relevant information. This is the profile employers will see, so you want to make a good impression! Check out these helpful articles to learn how to upload a document to Handshake and build your profile from your resume.
- 3. REGISTER TO ATTEND THE FAIR - Click here to go directly to the event page and register to attend our fair.
- 4. IDENTIFY & RESEARCH REGISTERED EMPLOYERS - View the fair details page to see the list of participating employers. Research district websites to create a “Top Tier” list of prospective employers and a secondary list. Note important characteristics of each targeted district so that you can demonstrate that you've done your “homework” and are a conscientious, highly motivated candidate. A directory of employers and certification areas sought is available on the PERC website's Candidate Information page. There will be a number of employers from outside of Pennsylvania, so it would be a good idea to think about where you may want to work after graduation and have a conversation with your family about geographic areas you are considering.
- 5. REVIEW THE MAP - In the weeks leading up to the PERC job fair, the planning committee will post a diagram of the venue that will include the locations for each of the employers. Familiarize yourself with the layout of the space so you can plan out your route and make the most of your time at the fair.
- 6. PREPARE YOUR RESUME & HAVE IT REVIEWED - It is important for you to bring copies of your resume with you to the fair because many employers will be collecting resumes and this is how they will follow up with you to schedule interviews if they are interested in you as a candidate. Be sure to take some time before the fair to update your resume and have it reviewed by the staff in the career services office on your campus. Check out this resume guide on Handshake!
- 7. EMPHASIZE YOUR STRENGTHS - Prepare to talk about experiences on your resume, highlighting skills that administrators are seeking: student-centered learning, classroom management, teaching strategies, state standards, collaborative teaching, integration of technology, etc. Don't forget to convey enthusiasm and practice your elevator pitch!
- 8. DRESS PROFESSIONALLY & ARRIVE ON TIME - In order to make a great first impression, professional dress is recommended. If you're not sure about the appropriateness of an outfit, contact your career services Office. Also, during the fair, some employers will invite you to interview at their booth or in the interview area at a later time during the day. Be mindful of the time while you're interacting with other employers to ensure you arrive at your scheduled interviews at least five minutes early.
- 9. MEET WITH A VARIETY OF EMPLOYERS - Don't just focus on a few popular districts. Keep an open mind. Employers may not list every certification area when they register. Talk with them about anticipated opportunities. If they are not the representative who hires for your certification area, ask for the name and e-mail address of the person that you should contact. If an employer is unsure about future vacancies in your certification area, ask for their contact information so that you can follow up with them. This kind of networking can lead to a position later!
- 10. STAY ORGANIZED & FOLLOW UP - After your sessions with employers, note the recruiters' names and any special points you discussed related to: a) the application process, b) special characteristics of the district, c) follow-up YOU offered to do, etc. It is very important to keep track of this information after each conversation because it will blur quickly if you don't capture it right away. Send follow-up emails to employers that you would like to pursue further, and attach another copy of your resume. Don't forget to thank them for taking the time to introduce you to their organization.

Bonus Tip! Interested in talking to employers conducting same-day interviews? Employers with this symbol on their booth sign are conducting same-day interviews.

Description: We think differently. We approach school differently. We believe that it is our responsibility to build an active, engaged, and thoughtful citizenry – not just graduate students. We strongly commit to building systems thinkers, and use the platform of environment and ecology explore complexity, diverse perspectives, and various disciplinary ways to engage or explore a problem. Ecological literacy is more than tree hugging or understanding the power of an invasive species in an ecosystem. ECS recognizes that the world is more complex and the successful education experience means more than simply preparing students with content. We know that humans need content, yet require opportunities to create, innovate, share and think critically. Coupled with an intensity for believing that culture is as important as a curriculum framework and a thinking-centered learning space, ECS dares to do “school” differently, and build extraordinary little people into extraordinary big people.

Penn Hills School District

Booth #: 133

Location: Pittsburgh, PA

Website: <https://www.phsd.k12.pa.us/>

Interviewing At the Fair: No Collecting Resumes: Yes

Description: Penn Hills is the second-largest community in Allegheny County. The community is serviced by the Penn Hills School District, which has three buildings currently housing over 3,500 students. Elementary students in PreK through grade 4 are housed in a central elementary building. A middle school serves grades 5 through 8 and the senior high school grades 9 through 12. The cultural, socioeconomic, racial, religious, and educational differences that exist in Penn Hills make it a unique, diverse community. The District recognizes these factors and the impact they have on the school system. We address these issues through differentiated educational interventions and schoolwide behavior programs that outline consistent behavioral expectations and offer positive recognition for students. Through these programs, we work to provide students with the words and skills to grow as both learners and citizens and provide them with a common, consistent message.
