

Congratulations to our 2022 Award winners!

Ethan Wagner, Dec '21
Mercyhurst University

I obtained my B.A. from Mercyhurst University in May 2021. While there as an undergraduate student, I majored in History and dual minored in both Political Science and Psychology. Additionally, I began to complete my graduate coursework in education during my junior year, ultimately obtaining my M.S. in Secondary Education in December 2021. After completing my student teaching during the Fall 2021 at North Hills Middle School in Pittsburgh, I was honored to be awarded with the Learning to Teach & Teaching to Learn Award by the Pennsylvania Association for Middle Level Education (PAMLE). I am currently applying and interviewing for social studies teaching positions, and I hope to remain in the Pittsburgh area. I plan to teach at the secondary level and eventually return to school to pursue a doctoral degree in education.
