

2024 Educator Excellence Award Winner

Caitlin Dwinnell

University of Pittsburgh

Caitlin Dwinnell is an educator currently enrolled at the University of Pittsburgh. She will graduate this April with a Masters in Teaching English and a certification to teach students in 7th-12th grade. Over the past year, Caitlin has interned at North Hills High Senior School, teaching 10th and 12th grade English. Before transitioning to education, Caitlin worked for several years in Marketing in the spheres of social media management, website development and copywriting. Caitlin looks forward to using her business experience and her love of literature to prepare her future students for reading, writing and communication in the world.